Rule changes effective 2005

10.16 Alternate Range Commands and Procedures to Be Used When Turning Targets are Required but not available -

- (a) All targets will be faced and the commands will be the same as listed elsewhere except:
  - 1. Where the rules call for the targets to be edged before or during the firing of a series the command “EDGE” will be used instead.
  - 2. Where the rules call for the targets to be faced at the beginning or during a series the command “FIRE” will be used instead.
  - 3. Where the rules call for targets to be edged to conclude a series the command “CEASE FIRING” will be used.
- (b) The spoken commands will be made as accurately as possible by the use of the appropriate timing device by the Chief Range Officer. It is desirable, but not required, to have one or more additional individuals check the timing of the commands to assure that no significant errors are inadvertently made.
- (c) Since timing is a critical factor where turning targets are normally used it is important to accurately access if a competitor has fired all shots within the required time. If voice commands are used instead of turning targets there shall be a Jury of three individuals present during all such firing and a majority vote of such jury shall decide whether any competitor fired either early or late shots.
